Lets Get The Party Started

At the start of the night, nominate one hen to be "Mistress of Thumbs." At any point she will place her thumb on the table and the rest of the party must follow suit as soon as they notice. The last one to notice and put their thumb on the table loses and must perform a forfeit (drinking or otherwise). She then becomes Mistress of Thumbs and the game continues...

Thruppeny Bits

You'll need 2 coins

Throw:

- A head and tail - player is off the hook and play continues to the next player
- 2 tails - perform a forfeit
- 2 heads - nominate another player to perform a forfeit AND make up a rule that all players must follow for the rest of the game. (Any player not following a rule must perform a forfeit)

Examples:

- Wink before taking a drink
- Left hand drinking only
- Must not use certain words
- Must stand up and curtsy before throwing the coins

We are sure you can think of more!

The longer play continues of course, the more rules there are to forget and the funnier it becomes!

A few challenges to get you started...

- Get the entire hen party to do a Mexican Wave
 - You each have one go to toss a coin with the bar staff. Heads you win a special hen night cocktail, tails you must perform a forfeit
 - Get everyone to put an ice cube in their mouths at the same time. First one to finish wins a prize, last one must perform a forfeit (Sucking only! No chewing!)
 - The bar staff have a liking for Salsa dancing. Impress a member of staff with your Salsa moves to win a prize
 - Convince any male to let you do his makeup. (If you have none then it's double dare to get someone to lend you some!). Win a special hen night cocktail for your efforts
 - Now it's over to you! Spot prizes and cocktails for the funniest challenges ...
